Work of Restoration But Slowly Progressing.

RAIN INTERFERES WITH WORK

The Fires Consuming the Debris Refuses to Burn and Dynamite is the Only Resort—The Loss of Life May Not Reach the Estimated Number—Wants and Needs of the Sufferers.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 15.—Pouring rain with intervals of scorching sunshine greatly retarded the progress of removal of wreckage yesterday. The laborers generally refused to take a soaking for the $1.50 they might have earned by so doing. The delay is trying to the patience of all parties interested.

It is sultry and raining hard now, and the fires refuse to burn. The only place that any work was done was at the aft where dynamiting was continued throughout the entire day, and a large part of the big raft toward the upper end has been dislodged. Some of the shots fired were terrific, both in effect and noise. One charge contained 1.0 pounds of the explosive.

The smell of burned and decaying flesh almost drove the dynamiters from their work. The odor emanating from this pile of debris is simply terrible.

Night Work Probable.

An effort will be made to have the work at the bridge continued by night as well as by day, and some special inducement will probably be presented to the men to keep them at their work, rain or shine. The aim of those in charge is to have everything systematized by the time of Governor Beaver's arrival in his proposed tour of inspection. The organization is now believed to be as nearly perfect as it can be made, and every department is in control of responsible and competent men.

The necessity for a lockup was apparent yesterday, and orders have been issued for the construction of a proper building for this purpose. Several arrests for various offenses were made by the police and soldiers. The culprits were locked in a box car for safe keeping.

Encouragement to Immigrate.

Col. Moody, division passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, west of Pittsburgh, has been commissioned as superintendent of transportation. Bank orders for tickets to be charged to the state have been prepared, and will be given to those desiring to leave for the west. A great many have already left the city, and others are anxiously waiting to start.

Declines to Be a Commissioner.

Mr. Fulton's declination to serve as one of Governor Beaver's commissioners for the relief fund, provoked much harsh criticism from many of Johnstown's prominent citizens, some claiming that Mr. Fulton was not the friend of the sufferers here that he claimed to be. Mr. Fulton gave as his reason for declining to serve, that he will be too much occupied in getting the Cambria works in operation.

Recommendations to the Governor.

A meeting of citizens was hastily called at the Pennsylvania freight house. A. J. Maxham presided and stated that "It is all important that we should have a representative citizen on that commission. We do not know whether the governor will entertain our recommendation, but I think that if we would telegraph advising the appointment of some one who is in sympathy with our people and in whom we all have confidence, he would probably comply with our suggestions."

Capt. Kuhns, with suggestive tone of voice, moved "That we recommend to the governor that John Fulton's resignation be accepted promptly and that we place in nomination a man who has the confidence and love of every man, woman and child in the Conemaugh valley. I mean Col. John P. Linton." Other speeches followed and Col. Linton was selected and a telegram to that effect was sent to the governor.

Saloons at Cambria to Be Closed.

It was discovered last night that several saloons had opened up for business in Cambria City. The report reached Gen. Hastings that men were fighting and drinking. Orders were sent at once to Col. Perchment to notify the proprietors to close up at once. In case of non-compliance a guard will be placed in the rum shops. Two thousand seven hundred dollars in money, raised by Pittsburgh teachers for Johnstown school teachers who are out of employment and were financially ruined by the flood were received yesterday. The fund was placed in the care of a committee of local teachers.

Newspaper Men's Excursion.

The Pennsylvania railway is arranging to take the newspaper men now here over the road as far as South Fork and Cresson to view the track of the flood. The excursion will be some day next week.

The Actual Loss of Life.

The aggregate number of bodies found thus far is 953 at Johnstown and surrounding morgues. At Nineveh 139; in Indiana county 50. This was up to Wednesday morning. The findings since that time are 48; some of these were found yesterday. This makes a total of 1,240. Of the bodies found yesterday, those of W. B. Hess, Capt. O'Connell and Mary Holleran were identified.

Col. Rodgers, who has charge of listing the dead, says he still thinks the aggregate will fall below 2,500. He is finding great difficulty, however, in making up his lists. Only 15,500 survivors out of a population of 29,600 have been registered.

Giving Out the Lumber.

Gen. Hastings has appointed a committee to take charge of the lumber that will come from Michigan and other places. The committee determined to give the lumber out in the order in which applications are filed. Twenty car loads are known to be en route, and others will follow soon.

Thanks to Gen. Hastings Gen. Hastings was publicly thanked Thursday for his efforts in behalf of the town.

Pennsylvania Railroad's Loss.

PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—Pennsylvania railroad officials have not yet estimated the amount of damage to their property by the recent flood, and will not be able to do so for some time yet. It is stated that although it would be easy to approximate the amount necessary to replace bridges and tracks, the roadway is seriously washed in many places so that years will be required to place it in first rate condition. The loss in such respects is hard to calculate. The loss, however, will be nothing like as great as was at first reported. They say that $3,000,000 will cover everything that can be replaced. It is stated now that the main line between Harrisburg and Pittsburg will be opened for freight and passenger business Monday morning.

A Demand for Babies.

PITTSBURG, June 15.—The ladies' relief committee in this city have placed on their files 791 applications for babies rescued from the flood.

During yesterday twenty-seven new refugees were accommodated, and seventy-one persons were clothed.

THE SAMOAN CONFERENCE.

An Agreement Reached and the Protocol Signed By All.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The Berlin negotiations for the Samoan treaty are at an end, and dispatches received at the state department state that the protocol was signed by all the commissioners yesterday in Berlin. It is now understood that the agreement originally submitted to the state department was found to be entirely satisfactory to the president, to Secretary Blaine, and the rest of the cabinet.

State department officials are not yet certain whether or not the Samoan agreements should be made public before the meeting of congress. A formal treaty pertaining to international questions, it will have to be submitted to the senate; but as a simple agreement the state department has power to make public the provisions at its discretion.

Last Meeting of the Conference.

BERLIN, June 15.—The Samoan conference met again yesterday. It is reported that the American delegates withdrew their objections to certain portions of the protocol, and that this is the final meeting of the conference. Mr. Phelps will sail on the Phila for New York at once from Bremen.

Provisions of the Treaty.

LONDON, June 15.—The Times Berlin special says that the gist of the Samoan agreement is that King Malietoa is to be reinstated, and that the control of affairs on the island is to be left mainly to the Samoans themselves. On all questions however, affecting the life or property of a subject of a foreign government, there will lie an appeal to a resident judge to be appointed hereafter, and who will be either an American, a German, or a British subject. The importation of liquor and fire arms is to be restricted.

The Times, commenting on the Samoan agreement, says: "Perhaps it is as well that Bismarck has been made to realize that where American interests are concerned, the American government is very little affected by many of those considerations which restrain the action of the European governments, with whom he is more accustomed to deal, and with whom he can for this very reason do more easily." The Times intimates that Germany will think twice before she provokes a collision with America.

BLOWN TO SMITHEREENS.

The Canada Powder Mills Near Brookville, Ont., Demolished.

BROOKVILLE, Ont., June 15.—The works of the Canada Powder company, twenty-seven miles east of here were blown up at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. The explosion was terrific, killing a number of horses and sheep and smashing many plate glass windows in this place. As luck happened the workmen had not yet reported for duty or there would have been a loss of life. It is not known what caused the explosion.

These works consisted of one heavy stone building and three frame structures. Not a vestige of these buildings is left on the old site. Heavy masses of stone and large timbers were carried long distances. The Grand Trunk railway has had to send a gang of men to clear the stones off the track a mile away. The report was heard fully twenty miles away. The cause of the explosion is unknown. Those who saw the explosion say that it was a terrific sight. The loss is on the plant and material, about $4,000. The buildings were valued at $1,200.

Advices from Malone and other points as far east as Champlain, in New York, say that the report of the powder explosion was distinctly heard at those places.

Death Sentence for Assault.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., June 16.—Paul Keys, colored, was convicted by a jury Thursday of an assault on the seven-year-old daughter of Arthur Bollay. The jury fixed death as his punishment. Keys was sentenced to be hanged Sept. 6 next by Judge Wallace.

Another Farmer Hanged.

CLEVELAND, O., June 15.—Sharps was supposed to had from Toledo yesterday hanged Isaac Walker, a wealthy farmer of Poland, near Youngstown, out of $5,000 in cash. They worked the bank scheme on him.

Once More a Free Man.

Alexander Sullivan Released on Bail.

TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

The Judge Decides That There Is But Very Little Evidence Against Him. Nothing Startling Revealed Before the Grand Jury.

CHICAGO, June 15.—Alexander Sullivan was released yesterday afternoon under bail of $20,000. Sullivan was escorted by Sheriff Matson and two deputies into Judge Tukey's court room about 3 o'clock.

He was a shade paler than usual, and at the audible commotion caused by his appearance his eyes swept the crowd with a hunted look as if in apprehension of a horrible demonstration. Judge Tukey entered the court room at 3:45, and without any delay plunged into the case.

Having explained the petition, and the law upon which it was based, he proceeded to briefly review the testimony taken at the coroner's jury. He quoted copiously from the evidence of the witnesses, to whom Cronin had said that Alexander Sullivan would be the cause of his death, and that the latter had instigated a conspiracy to kill him. None of this evidence, he said, would be admitted in a court of law. This excluded, there was practically no evidence against him. It was conceded that Sullivan was an enemy of Cronin's; it was also conceded that Cronin was a bitter enemy of Sullivan's. There were several theories of the murder. One was that he was murdered by people for revenge growing out of the society troubles.

Assuming this to be so, what evidence was there identifying Sullivan with the crime. He was not shown to be connected with the renting of the cottage, or the hiring of the horse and buggy. It was not shown that he knew Sullivan, or had met any of the other persons. No act could be traced home to him. The theory that he was killed to prevent the exposure of the secrets of the triangle was unreasonable. It did not appear that Cronin was in possession of any vital facts. All he had would have been in existence after his death. All of the evidence taken at the Buffalo investigation was in the possession of Dr. McCahy, of Philadelphia, and others.

As to the theory that the crime was perpetrated as a result of a decree of the Clan-na-Gael, the fact stood out that Sullivan had severed his connection with that order years ago. How, then, could he influence or control it? It was not shown that he had ever met or had any business dealings with any of the other conspirators. The jury was influenced by hearsay testimony. The strongest evidence against Sullivan was furnished by himself. It was the protest issued five days after the doctor's disappearance against his sitting on the Sullivan trial committee. It was couched in language of extraordinary virulence and hatred.

But this very publication at such a time tended to show that Sullivan had no knowledge of the conspiracy. It seemed incredible that if he was a party to it, he would promulgate such a document right after the murder. The evidence pointed to Sullivan as a man who desired revenge on Cronin, but it pointed to no overt act. No impartial man could make up his mind that any jury would convict Sullivan on this evidence. The mere fact that one party was an enemy of the man killed, was no proof that he was a participant in the murder. He had therefore come to the conclusion, and not without very considerable hesitation that bail to such an amount as to insure his appearance, should an indictment be found should be accepted.

Sullivan preserved his usual cool, stolid demeanor, when the conclusion was announced and an attempt to applaud was suppressed by the bailiffs. There was an argument between the state's attorney and Mr. Trude as to the amount of bail. The latter, who said Sullivan was almost entirely without means, thought $5,000 to $10,000 sufficient. Finally $20,000 was agreed upon. Four gentlemen, who swore to the aggregate possession of over $500,000 of real estate, stepped forward, the bonds were made out and signed and Sullivan walked out of the room a free man.

The grand jury spent several hours in hearing the witnesses that testified before the coroner, but little progress was made. Officer Daniel Brown, who preferred the charges of treason against Cronin, was on the stand five hours, but it is understood that he did not vary much from his previous testimony.

Is Feely a Spy?

TORONTO, Ont., June 15.—The Empire says: It would not be a surprise to some people if Dennis C. Feely, one of the men now brought forward most prominently in connection with the Cronin murder at Chicago, would turn out to be a British spy. He was at one time a most noted British subject. He joined the Colborne garrison battery many years ago. By his zeal and attention to duty he soon worked his way up to the position of sergeant major, and served in that capacity in 1895, during the Fenian raid when his battery was stationed in the old fort at Toronto. As soon as he was released from service he went to Rochester, where he became the head center of the Fenian organization. From there he went to Chicago. His name appears on the old service roll of the two batteries of artillery, that were quartered in the old fort, and it may be found on the pay sheets of the militia department of Ottawa.

The Hotel Register Clerk.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 15.—William G. Melville, a clerk in the office of the Trans-Missouri Railway association was in Chicago on April 15 last, and registered as W. G. Melville at McCoy's hotel in that city. Chicago detectives heard that John J. Maroney, who is implicated in the Cronin murder, registered at the hotel about the same time, and after a comparison of Maroney's handwriting with the name in the register declared that Maroney had written the name "W. G. Melville." The detectives also discovered, as is alleged, that Thomas Desmond, the Irish Nationalist, of San Francisco, had numerous interviews with Maroney or Melville at the hotel. Between April 15 and April 21st, Melville only stopped in Chicago one day, and the man who had interviews with him was Samuel Stopfel, another railroad man who is in the same office with Melville. W. G. Melville is not an Irishman, and never had any connection with any clan or clandestine organization. He was reared in Lawrence, Kas., and since leaving school, has been in the employ of railroads. He is about 30 years of age.

Another Arrest.

The police last night arrested Thomas Tierney, a teamster employed by Sullivan, the ice man, and he was locked up at the Central station. Tierney has been under surveillance ever since Dr. Cronin's body was found and it is believed that he knows a good deal about the murder. It was learned last night that Hatfield, the clerk who sold the furniture that was delivered at No. 117 Clark street; Throckmorton, the clerk for Night & Leonard, who rented the rooms at the above number to the man Simons, and Martensen, the expressman who removed the furniture thence to the Carlson cottage, had been taken to New York by detectives, to see if they can identify Maroney and McDonald as the men with whom they had the transaction.

NATURAL GAS EXPLOSION.

Several Persons Seriously Burned and Bruised at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 15.—By an explosion of natural gas at the residence of Mrs. Killbourn, 144 East New York street, yesterday afternoon, the following named persons were seriously burned or bruised: Fred L. McGahan, plumber, will probably die; J. T. Crowles, painter; Louis H. Fahrback; Mrs. Ella Killbourn, injuries very painful, but will probably recover.

The Killbourn family had recently moved into the house, and called in a plumber to connect the stoves with the gas-pipes. While so engaged the gas was ignited from a lighted match, wrecking the house and burning all the occupants of the room.

A Murderer Pays the Death Penalty.

WAY CROSS, Ga., June 15.—Alexander Henderson, colored, was hanged yesterday at Bainbridge, Ga., for the murder of Henry Jones and his 7-year-old daughter. Henderson broke down on the scaffold and admitted his guilt. He cried good-by to all just as the drop fell. His neck was not broken, and he died of strangulation in fourteen minutes. Jones paid some attention to Henderson's wife. Henderson warned him to keep away from his home. Jones repeated his visits until the night of the murder. Jones' little daughter accompanied him, and Henderson, after murdering Jones, fearing that the girl might betray him, threw her into the river near by and drowned her.

Somebody to Be Responsible.

CANTON, O., June 15.—Coroner Shaffer has completed the inquest on the bodies of the two men and two boys killed by a Pittsburg, Port Wayne and Chicago train at Louisville. It is stated that Superintendent Starr and the engineer of the train will be charged with manslaughter. It seems that on the day preceding the accident Superintendent Starr had refused to place a watchman to guard the crossing.

Smallpox and Yellow Fever Raging.

NEW ORLEANS, June 15.—News has just been brought here by a gentleman from Brazil, who says that smallpox and yellow fever are raging in a virulent form, not alone in Rio Janeiro, but through all the states within 200 miles of that city. The death rate for three days at Santos was 70 per cent., and people who could do so were leaving in droves.

Boys Struck by Lightning.

CINCINNATI, June 15.—Lightning performed its terrible work on College Hill, yesterday, cutting down two sons of Mr. Lowe Emerson, of the firm of Emerson, Fisher & Company, carriage manufacturers of this city. Of the two, Gny, the elder, was instantly killed, while Lowe was so badly injured that it is feared he cannot recover. Should the lad survive the awful shock he will be marked for life physically, if not also mentally. The two boys had taken shelter under a tree near the house.

Fatal Fire in a Tenement House.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Fire broke out in a tenement house containing twenty-two families, at 82 Norfolk street, last night. All of the inmates escaped to the street without serious injury, except an old woman named Kirsbaum and her 2-year-old grand daughter, Esther Goldberg, whose bodies were burned to a crisp. The building was damaged to the extent of $10,000.

Trusts continue to spring up and flourish. A tobacco trust, a rubber trust and a coal trust are the latest spoken of.

Another libel suit against a newspaper has been thrown out of court. This time it is the case of O'Donovan Rossa against a paper at New York. The editors seem to fare well with courts and juries now-a-days.

HON. JAMES P. HARRISON has shed his castor into the ring for County Judge of Fleming County. The Judge is a hustler and his friends here in Mason and everywhere else would like to see him get there.

How different would be the condition of those unfortunate Indiana coal-miners if this wondrous Presidential election year. They wouldn't be starving for want of work nor would they be fighting against a reduction of wages.

One of the results of the late election is thus noticed by the Frankfort Herald:

A sight that met the eye in the United States Court yesterday was a number of brokers discounting the claims of the witnesses. This is under Republican rule. Under Democratic rule these claims were paid promptly by the Marshal.

It is said that Hon. John G. Carlisle has a standing guarantee of $500,000 to enter a New York law firm. Whether he accepts it or not, it is strong proof of the man's ability and popularity.—Bourbon News.

No such proof as that is needed. His ability and popularity is acknowledged, and has been for years. The Ex-Speaker is all right.

"The colored Republican is beginning to inquire where he stands under the present National and State administrations, and his white Republican brother is zealously trying to convince him that too much curiosity is a dangerous thing," says the Cincinnati Enquirer, and that's about the situation at present.

DURING the yellow fever scourge last fall, Johnstown, Pa., sent poor, stricken, devastated Jacksonville $25,000. The other day Jacksonville sent $20,000 to the sufferers at Johnstown.—Exchange.

Jacksonville did not measure her charity by that of Johnstown, and her people have manifested in a most striking way their gratitude for the aid extended them in their hour of affliction last fall.

The Central City Republican sings in a low, sad voice:
Pie, pie, beautiful pie—
Open the cupboard and give us some pie.
Pie, pie—Government pie,
Thou art the apple of many a man's eye.
This is the song the local members of the G. O. P. are singing, and the BULLETIN has a tip that there is going to be some fun if the pie isn't forthcoming.

Mr. E. R. BLAINE is in Washington City, having arrived there Thursday. Knowing ones predict, may they be confident, he will get the Collectorship of this district if it should not be given to Col. Goodloe. One thing is admitted on all hands, and this is that no one is better qualified for the position than Mr. Blaine. He has been connected with the office most of his life.

THE law of Kentucky explicitly provides, under penalty, that physicians shall annually furnish the County Clerk a full list of all the births which they supervised or superintended during the year. This law, which is a very wise and good one, is practically a dead letter, but it should be enforced. Grand juries should be charged concerning it, and the doctors made come to the scratch. This register, if correctly kept, will be of inestimable advantage to future generations.—Winchester Democrat.

Like a good many other statutes the one referred to above has always been a "dead letter." Repeal it or enforce it.

INTERESTING EVENT.

High School Commencement at the Washington Opera House.

Diplomas Awarded to Nine Pupils. Programme of the Closing Exercises.

A city's schools should always be the special pride of her people. Particularly ought this be true of her public schools where the masses of her citizens receive their education.

Maysville's public schools will compare favorably with any in the land. They are on a firmer basis now than ever before, and, with the corps of efficient teachers in charge, there is promise of a bright future.

The opera house was crowded last night by a most appreciative audience in honor of the commencement of the High School. The exercises began promptly at 8 o'clock. When the curtain rose there was presented before the expectant eyes of the Maysvillians a most enchanting picture. Amidst a profusion of flowers the bright eyes of the "sweet girl graduates" gleamed like so many stars on a perfect night.

The programme is given below. Want of space does not permit us to go into details. Suffice it to say that all acquitted themselves in a highly creditable manner, that bespoke the excellent care and instruction they have received the past session.

The music which was rendered by Misses Alice Forman, Anna Shackelford, Lillie Smoot and Mattie Forman, under the direction of Professor Kappes, was an enjoyable feature of the programme.

These exercises closed one of the most successful years in the history of the school due to the able and untiring efforts of the principal, Professor C. J. A Galvestonian Away Has Good Fortune.

During the recent Mardi Gras celebration at New Orleans, a lady from Galveston while taking in the carnival, was not forgetful of the fact that it was near the time for the March drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery, she invested $1 in a lottery ticket, which she brought back, forgetting its possession. She discovered that she held one-twentieth of ticket No. 10,420 which drew the second capital prize of $100,000, thus entitling her to $3,000. The ticket was cashed in this city, being paid over to the representative of the lady.—Galveston (Tex.) News, April 2.

Primary Election.

The Democratic fight for the county offices is on. It is red-hot and has been from the first. A heavy vote is being polled, and it is impossible almost to get any returns indicating who will win. May the best men get there, is the BULLETIN's wish.

ALL HANDS SMILING!

We are overjoyed at the success we are having, and have good reasons to believe our friends and patrons are also. Small profits and quick sales are what causes our house to be crowded with buyers from morning until night, week in and week out. Keep coming. You have our word that we will sell you goods at smaller profits than any other house in the State. People never fail to buy of us when they see our goods and learn our prices. We are asked the question daily by our friends: "Are you making any money? How can you keep up expenses and sell goods so cheap?" Our answer is we do not expect to get rich; we only ask to make a living and be happy, and we are never so happy as when our house is crowded with buyers. We keep the best and sell cheaper than any one else. THE RED CORNER is the busiest place in the city. Do not fail to give us a call when in need of anything in the CLOTHING line,
